Small Group Warm-Up: 15 minutes

Purpose: Get pointed in the right direction! Build relationships and help guests feel at ease. Do the learning readiness activity that will point your group in the right direction for the lesson.

Supplies needed: roll of masking tape for each group; three blindfolds for each group

For the following warm-up event your group will need a roll of masking tape and three blindfolds. These items will help you create an obstacle course and blindfold the participants that will be navigating it. Use your own imagination to improvise other materials better suited for your setting.

Gather the kids in your group. Blindfold three children. Ask them to keep their eyes closed under the blindfold as well. Give the other children several three-foot sections of masking tape. Have the second group of children make an obstacle course by placing the masking tape on the floor. One part of the room should be the starting point and the other part of the room should be the end.

Every place that is marked with masking tape becomes an imaginary wall. If a blindfolded participant bumps into any of the “walls,” he must be escorted back to the starting point.

The blindfolded participant will have a partner to help guide him through the obstacle course. The helper can only guide the participant with verbal directions. The trick is for the blindfolded participant to listen to one voice from amongst the group.

The game could be made even more difficult if all three blindfolded children go through the course at the same time. Each would have to listen for a different voice that is leading him.

Wrap up the game with the following questions.

What was the hardest part of trying to get through the obstacle course?

What was the hardest part of telling someone how to walk through the obstacle course?

What did it feel like when you didn’t know where you were going and you were afraid of making a mistake?

Have you ever had to move to a new place or go to a new school? Before you moved, did you think about the future and did it seem very scary? You didn’t know what was going to happen in the future, did you?

Let kids share their stories of moving to a new place. After discussion, introduce today’s Bible event.

Today we will continue to watch as God passes the promise to his people. We will learn about how God passed the promise to a man named Abram. God told Abram to move and Abram didn't even know where he would end up. Abram had to walk by faith and not by sight. He had to trust God to lead him.

Today you will find this is true for you, as well. You can trust God to lead you.*

Large Group: 20-30 minutes

Purpose: Help kids observe what the Bible says. Present the Bible Event in creative fashion. Help kids begin to interpret what it means.

Supplies needed: Dao Dao; small backpack or suitcase for Dao Dao; actor dressed as Abram (must have a beard); football with a cross drawn on it with masking tape

Overview

Puppet Presentation: "Dao Dao Changes Schools"

Dao Dao is afraid of the future and going to a new school. He wants to take the matter into his own hands instead of trusting in God to take care of him.

Bible Event Interview: "God Calls Abram"

Covers the Bible Event from Genesis 12-13. God calls Abram out of the land of Ur to the land of Canaan. Abram has faith and trusts God's promise. God also promises to bless Abram with many descendants and that the Messiah would also be one of his descendants. Abram walked with faith.

Small Group Application: 20-25 minutes

Purpose: Help kids map out the meaning of the Bible event in their lives. Use the questions to stimulate discussion but don't feel tied to them. Allow the Holy Spirit to guide you. Include personal examples from your own faith journey. The example of Christ at work in your life will leave lasting impressions of how Christ can work in the children's lives.

Use your Bibles! Children need to learn how to look up references and follow along when scripture is read aloud. Allow for quality time of prayer at the close of the lesson.

Supplies needed: camping mix snack; bag to hold shoes for each group

Observation Questions: What happened?

Pass out a snack of trail mix to the kids as you discuss today's lesson.

Kids, this camping mix reminds us of how we sometimes have a snack when we are taking a hike or a long walk. We are all on a journey in our lives. Sometimes we don't know where our journey will end, but we do know we can trust God to lead us.

Read Genesis 12:1-3.

What are some of the promises God gave Abram? (Land, descendents, a blessing.)

What is the greatest promise God passed on to Abram? (The promise that through him all the nations would be blessed. Jesus was born through Abram's family. The Old Testament talks about how this promise was passed down from generation to generation until Jesus was born.)

Interpretation Questions: What does this mean?

What do you think would be the hardest thing about Abram going to a new place?

What is the hardest thing to believe in promise given to Abram?

Application Questions: What does this mean to me?

Have all the children take off one shoe and put it in a bag in the middle of the group. The shoes will be used for a discussion starter.

As each of you pulls someone else's shoe out of the bag, you are invited to share an example of something in the future you might worry about. For example, some of you might worry about going to a new school or starting a new grade.

Would you be troubled about moving to a new town? Could you be worried about what you are going to be when you grow up?

Let each child talk about something in the future he doesn't know about and might cause him to worry. The child who owns the shoe that was drawn from the bag is the next person to share something. He then draws a shoe from the bag.

Ask the children to remember whose shoe they pulled from the bag and that child's concern about the future. They will be asked to pray for each other and those concerns during prayer time.

Memory Verse Learning: 5 minutes

Purpose: Help kids to memorize and keep scriptures at heart. Using creative ways to help kids enjoy learning the key verse and in small group setting.

Supplies needed: Peep-box with UV light attached; Flashcard of verse to slot into peep-box

Memory Verse: 2 Corinthians 5:7: "We live by what we believe, not by what we can see."

MV Presentation: "Reflective Verse"

Before volunteers were to look inside of the peep-box, turn on the UV light. It will cause the letterings done with fluorescent paper to glow. There are five flashcards to lift up from slot. The first volunteer peeps inside and reads aloud. Everybody is to repeat after. Before the next volunteer peeps, the shepherd would have lift of the first flashcard, leaving four more behind. After the second volunteer read out, everybody repeat but saying out the first reading before the second reading. This goes on until the whole memory verse is learnt. It is alright to repeat this procedure for another round.

Prayer Time:

The children should sit in a circle as they pray. Each child should pray for how God would help lead into the future the child whose shoe he drew out of the bag. Go around the circle as your group prays.

Large Group Presentation

“Dao Dao Changes Schools”

Puppet Presentation

Take Home Point: You can trust God to lead you.*

Teacher: Kids, I understand you have just done some faith walking before coming to large group. Maybe you are getting ready for what it says here in the Bible in 2 Corinthians 5:7: “We live by what we believe, not by what we can see.” In other words, you can trust God to lead you.

Should we check on Dao Dao and see if he is here?

(Children chant, “Dao Dao! Dao Dao! Dao Dao!”)

Dao Dao: (Appears with backpack in hand.) Hi, Teacher! Hi, kids! I’m glad you caught me. I was just leaving.

Teacher: Where were you going?

Dao Dao: I don’t know, but it’s gotta be better than where they were going to send me.

Teacher: What are you talking about, Dao Dao? What’s with the backpack?

Dao Dao: Can’t you tell I’m running away?

Teacher: Why are you running away?

Dao Dao: Because they are going to send me to a new school next year!

Teacher: Dao Dao, what’s so bad about that?

Dao Dao: Are you kidding?! I’ll probably get a mean teacher who hates new kids and likes to sit on them!

Teacher: I don’t think...

Dao Dao: And the school will probably have machines just for torturing kids!

Teacher: Oh, Dao Dao.

Dao Dao: And none of the kids will like me. They will all make fun of me because I’m smarter than everyone else!

Teacher: Dao Dao, I certainly don't think...

Dao Dao: I hate it when something new happens and I have to go to a new place and I don't even know what to expect!

Teacher: Dao Dao, the Bible says that sometimes you can't know everything about the future. Still you can be confident that it will turn out okay.

Dao Dao: How does the Bible know I won't have a mean teacher who sits on new kids?

Teacher: The Bible says that our lives are guided by faith, not by sight. In other words, we should trust that God would go with us and show us the way to go. Even if we can't see what it will be like in the future, we should know that God would take us there.

Dao Dao: I don't know. I think I'll just take my chances out on my own.

Teacher: I suppose you could, but that's when I would really be scared if I were you.

Dao Dao: What do you mean?

Teacher: God wants to guide you and lead you to the best places. He even gives you parents and teachers to help you with that. But if you say you want to go do it all on your own, then you might just be stepping away from what God wants. You wouldn't be guided by following what God wants. Instead, you would be doing just what you want.

Dao Dao: Oh, and that's not good?

Teacher: No, it's not.

Dao Dao: But I'm scared about going to a new school.

Teacher: It's okay to be scared because you can't see the future. When you tell God about it you can trust God to lead you.* I'll tell you what. I have a special guest here that I'm going to interview. He will help you understand how God led him to a whole new place. Because this person followed where God was leading, God blessed him in making him a big blessing to people.

Dao Dao: Who is it?

Teacher: I would like to introduce my friend, Abram.

“God Calls Abram”

Bible Event Interview

(Abram enters dressed in a costume that shows his age through a long beard. He is carrying the football with the cross on it.)

Teacher: How do you do, Abram? Thank you for joining us today.

Abram: It’s a pleasure to be here.

Teacher: I see you are a football fan.

Abram: Football? Is that what this is? No, we never had football when I lived thousands and thousands of years ago. I’m carrying this because you have been talking about God passing a promise.

Teacher: That’s right. We have been talking about that.

Abram: God passed me a promise.

Teacher: What was it?

Abram: He promised he would give me a land and many descendents. Through me all the people of the earth would be blessed.

Teacher: Why don’t you tell us your story.

Abram: Okay. I was the beginning of a family known as God’s special family. It didn’t start until I was 75 years old. You see, I lived in the city of Ur of the Chaldeans. Here people worshiped the moon god, Ur. They even named their city after this god.

My father, Terah, was a shepherd farmer living outside of Ur. He did not worship the moon god, but he followed the true, living God.

I had moved from the city of Ur to a place in Haran. I lived with my wife Sarai until I was 75 years old.

Teacher: Wow! That’s as old as a grandpa. Did you have grandchildren?

Abram: No. Sarai and I were sad because we were never able to have a child. Now Sarai was too old to have a child. We thought we would never have a family of our own. But that was something God was ready to change with a promise.

Teacher: What happened?

Abram: It all began with a command from God. He told me, “Abram, rise up. Leave your country, your relatives, and your father’s house. Leave them. Go to a land that I will show you. You don’t know it yet, but it will be a land that I will give you.”

Teacher: That sounds exciting.

Abram: Not as exciting as the next thing God said. God told me, “Abram, I will make you a father, a grandfather, and even a great grandfather. Your children shall multiply until they are a family of thousands. I will bless you so you shall be a blessing to all the nations. In you, Abram, shall all the families of the earth be blessed.”

Teacher: What did God mean by that?

Abram: God was passing the promise to me, like this football. That meant that through my descendents the Messiah, Jesus, would some day be born. Through Jesus, all the people of the world would be blessed.

Teacher: But, Abram, you were such an old man. How could you have a baby?

Abram: I didn’t know. I also didn’t know where God would lead me. I just knew I had to obey God.

I gathered my possessions and told Sarai that we were going to a new home. She asked me where it was, and I said I didn’t know. God knew and he would tell us.

We traveled hundreds and hundreds of miles. Finally we stopped in the land of Canaan. Here the Lord gave me another wonderful promise. He told me to look to the west as far as I could see. Then he told me to look to the east, the north, and the south. One day all of that land would belong to my children. God would give it to them.

I didn’t even have any children! But I had faith that God had a plan for me. I built an altar and worshiped God.

Teacher: So you settled in the plush, green lands of Canaan?

Abram: Yes. With me was my nephew, Lot. He, too, had many livestock and shepherds taking care of his animals.

Our shepherds began to fight over the water and the land. Lot and I realized we couldn’t be together anymore. We decided to part ways.

I said to him, “Go to whatever part of the land you want to and I will go to the other.” Lot chose the plush, green Jordan River. It looked like the best to him, and the area even had two cities in it. What Lot did not see was the evil in the two cities, Sodom and Gomorrah.

I took my flocks to the bare, brown hills of Canaan. There I wandered with my flocks, waiting for God to keep His promise of giving me descendants and the promised land.

Teacher: What did you learn, Abram?

Abram: I learned that you could trust God to lead you. He passed the promise to me that He would lead me, give me a land, children, and a promised Messiah to be born in my family many years later.

Teacher: That’s fantastic! Thank you very much, Abram. Thank you for being an example of trusting God to lead you.

Dao Dao: Hey, wait a minute, Mr. Abram! Weren’t you ever scared when you didn’t know the future?

Abram: Of course, it was scary. When you get scared that is when you need to trust God. He passes the promise that He will always be with us and lead us in the way we should go. Here. Catch. (Passes the football to Dao Dao.)

Dao Dao: You mean, I have a promise too?

Abram: Of course, you do. Just like Jesus was promised in the Old Testament in my day, Jesus is promised in your day. You already know He has done all you need for Him to be your friend forever. Jesus died on the cross and rose again.

Dao Dao: Oh, I know that. So he has passed me the promise, too.

Abram: That’s true. You can trust God to lead you.

Dao Dao: Cool! Well, I think I’ll take the football and—who knows—maybe it will help me make some new friends at my new school.

Teacher: Great, Dao Dao! Go give it a try.
